SMITHFIELD FOODS’ HELPING HUNGRY HOMES®, PRICE CHOPPER DONATES NEARLY 40,000 POUNDS OF PROTEIN TO HARVESTERS—THE COMMUNITY FOOD NETWORK

KANSAS CITY, MO – September 5, 2017 – Today, Smithfield Foods’ Helping Hungry Homes® initiative, a program focused on alleviating hunger and helping Americans become more food secure, joined forces with Price Chopper to donate nearly 40,000 pounds of protein to Harvesters—The Community Food Network. The donation, equivalent to nearly 160,000 servings, will help those fighting hunger in Kansas City, where one in seven individuals are food insecure.

“We are very grateful for Smithfield, Price Chopper and all of our partners who help us alleviate hunger,” said Valerie Nicholson-Watson, president and CEO of Harvesters—The Community Food Network. “This generous donation strengthens our communities and will serve local families in need.”

Smithfield and Price Chopper’s representatives presented the donation to Harvesters—The Community Food Network this morning at an event that raised awareness of hunger’s impact in the local community. Members from all three organizations discussed the significance of protein donations in helping the 262,020 individuals, including one in six children, who face hunger each day in the Kansas City metro area.

"Price Chopper is grateful to have Smithfield and Harvesters as partners in the fight to end hunger across the Kansas City metro area," said Casie Broker, vice president of marketing at Price Chopper. “Feeding Kansas City is at the heart of everything we do at Price Chopper and we're dedicated to reducing the number of Kansas Citians facing food insecurity."

Smithfield’s donation to Harvesters—The Community Food Network was a part of the Helping Hungry Homes® 2017 nationwide donation tour. Throughout the annual tour, Smithfield will provide large-scale protein donations to nearly 60 food banks across the country. This donation adds to the more than 65 million servings of protein donated since 2011.

“As a global food company, we are passionate about serving communities seeking assistance,” said Dennis Pittman, senior director of hunger relief for Smithfield Foods. “It is our honor to stand with Price Chopper and Harvesters in the fight against hunger by providing high-quality, nutritious protein to families within the 26 counties the food bank serves.”

Following today’s event, Helping Hungry Homes® will visit Columbia, MO, Wednesday, Sept. 6. For more information about Helping Hungry Homes® and a list of upcoming donation events, visit helpinghungryhomes.com.
